VMRF-DU Research Code of Conduct and Ethics

(Promotion of Academic Integrity and Prevention of Plagiarism)
(2018)

VMRF-DU is committed to academic excellence and to fostering the highest ethical standards of honesty and integrity in research. University and its constituent colleges conducting research are expected to have a Code of Academic Integrity, Responsible Conduct of Research and procedures for addressing allegations of research misconduct.

Code of Ethics

The University has a policy on all sorts of Research Misconduct such as fabrication, falsification, plagiarism, or other serious deviation from accepted practices in proposing, carrying out, or reporting results from research; Scholars/faculty should ensure that they have written and submitted only entirely original works, and if they have used the work and/or words of others, that this has been appropriately cited. Publications that have been influential in determining the nature of the work reported in the thesis/research paper should also be cited. Plagiarism takes many forms, from "passing off" another's paper as the author's own, to copying or paraphrasing substantial parts of another's paper (without acknowledgement), to claiming results from research conducted by others. Plagiarism in all its forms constitutes unethical publishing practice and deserves condemnation. The Research Directorate of the University ensures that all submitted thesis/research papers being considered for award of degrees undergo through plagiarism detection software recommended by University an Anti-Plagiarism certificate to be issued by concerned committee of the university. Detection/Reporting/Handling of
